Christmas Message from the Presbyter

The arrival of Christmas season brings with it thoughts of decorative outdoor lights that turns yards into a beautiful kaleidoscope of colors. During this time of the year we think of decorated Christmas trees with lots of decorative things on it. We are reminded of Santa Claus and his reindeer, of candles, bells, stars, wreaths, ornaments and presents. But, sad to say, the most important reason for celebrating Christmas is left out of the celebration --- Christ himself.

Some of us spent so much of money on celebrations, party, clothes and outdoor decoration. It seems that for many people the most important part of what Christmas is all about is missing from the celebration. We have been so caught up in the materialistic aspect of the season that we have left out the real reason for the season.

It is nothing wrong with adorning our homes with lights, trees, ornaments and all the other festive things that occupy our thoughts during Advent. But what is important is that it should be placed in their proper perspective. Our outward and visible expressions should bare a relationship to the event.

When we look at the real meaning of Christmas we are reminded that Jesus came into this world for all of us so that we can have everlasting life. He came in the human form so that we can associate with him.

In a dream, God gave the wise men a warning about Herod and suggested that they take another way home. "But they were given a warning in a dream not to go back to Herod and returned to their own country by a different way". Anyone who first meets Christ and is sincere about him will never travel the old path again. Once a relationship is established with God, the new but narrow path is more favourable and much more rewarding.

During this Christmas season God is once again offering us the gift of His own Son. Let us then pass that gift on to all our fellow being who have never heard about this Saviour. Let us tell the whole world the real meaning of Christmas. Let us with zeal and enthusiasm celebrate the birth of Jesus and let the whole world know the real meaning of Christmas.

May all of you have a blessed and holy Christmas this Year.
